

DATABASE SCHEMA

The database consists of three tables, user assignment and task. The following schema indicates how these three tables are linked to each other.

As shown in the above table, user is linked to assignment via user_id and task is linked to assignment via task_id or assignment_id.